

About
Matthew Crider, J.D.

Matthew Crider formed Crider Law PC in 1999 so he could help individuals and business owners by providing creative solutions and be their trusted advisor and legal counselor. He serves his clients by listening closely to their goals, dreams and concerns and working with them to develop superior and comprehensive estate and asset protection plans. His estate planning practice focuses on preserving and growing wealth by providing comprehensive, highly personalized estate planning counsel to couples, families, individuals and businesses.

Book Tells You Everything You Want to Know About Estate Planning

By Matthew Crider, JD | Family Wealth Protection Attorney

Forbes blogger Deborah Jacobs has written a book that will tell you everything you need to know about estate planning.

It is called "Estate Planning Smarts" and it is described as a "user friendly, action oriented guide" to estate planning.

It has been updated to reflect the latest changes to estate tax policy.

It is designed to educate people before and after they meet with their estate planning advisors. It will help you ask better questions and make it easier to address stressful topics.

Jacobs, herself an experienced lawyer, is known for translating complex legal topics into easy-to-understand English.

She is a syndicated columnist and has written for the New York Times and writes a blog on estate planning for Forbes magazine.

The book is a useful tool for the semi-affluent to the super-rich. It is written with clarity, authority and compassion.

More information is available at the web site listed below.

Of course, the book is not a substitute for getting individualized counseling on your unique situation. For this, you should talk with an estate planning lawyer.