Practical Apps that Make Lawyers' Days a Little Easier

Everyone has their own favorite iPhone apps - and some, quite frankly, are more helpful than others. But what about for lawyers and law school students? Which applications are the most helpful to them?

Here are the five best iPhone apps for up-and-coming lawyers who want to improve their time management and study practices.

1. BarMax.

It is the one of the most expensive iPhone apps out there, but some say it's worth every penny.

BarMax is an application to help law students preparing for the bar exam. It includes thousands of pages of material as well as hundreds of hours of audio lectures. It's all the information you could ever want for the two-month course. And again, it can be done all on your iPhone. And, if you do want some more tangible paperwork for certain sections, BarMax will send you that electronically as well.

2. Law in a Flash: Torts.

600 flash cards will help you efficiently review for course exams and/or the Multistate Bar Exam. The cards are organized to mirror the way most Torts casebooks address topics.

3. Kaplan MBE Flashcards.

Handling a big multi-state investigation or exam? This app and mobile reference will help. It covers illegal, constitutional law, evidence, criminal law and procedure, contracts and real estate.

4. Black's Law Dictionary.

Again, a little high in the price department - but extremely valuable if you're constantly on the go. It's an excellent legal source for lawyers, students, or anyone.

5. LawStack.

Free iPhone app that provides the federal rules of civil procedure, criminal procedure, evidence, appellate procedure, and bankruptcy procedure, plus the text of the U.S. Constitution.

Of course, all of these iPhone apps are available for download at the Apple App Store.
