

NEWS AND NOTES

News and Notes 3

This is a blog. Case summaries and notes are written by Peter Y. Chang, Esq. unless otherwise attributed.

Disclaimer: Intended for general information only; not legal advice.
Information is believed to be accurate but is not guaranteed.

A former hospital employee, 56, who was fired on allegations of "extreme misconduct" has prevailed at trial on a claim of age discrimination, according to a recent report. University Hospitals of Cleveland, Ohio states that it will appeal the decision, which resulted in an award of $900,000.00.

Article / Source: http://blog.cleveland.com/metro/2011/02/university_hospitals_ordered_t.html

Are your civil rights being violated? The Americans with Disabilities Act ensures equality of opportunity for those with disabilities. Your rights as an American are protected by Federal and State law. Our country was founded on the premise of ordered liberty -- under law. In our society, lawyers exist to help those in need exercise their rights. Those who are disabled already have challenges they must face. Violation of their legal protections should not add to their burden.