Re: Status of Your Case

Dear Mr. Joy:

This letter is to inform you on the status of the pending charges that have been brought against you. I have received four indictments against you for the charges of stalking, assault on a female, felony kidnapping, and statutory rape. A court date has been set for you in Superior Court on December 14, 2010 at 10:00 a.m. in Courtroom B.

I spoke with Officer B. Ruse Yurhed yesterday at which point he admitted "that things got a little rough" during his interrogation of you. I have filed a Motion to Suppress the Confession with the Superior Court and a Notice of Hearing has been set for November 29, 2010 at 9:30 a.m. I will also be attending a Notice of Hearing on November 30, 2010 at 9:30 a.m. to address a motion filed against you by the District Attorney's office asking for the admission of prior "bad acts" that were allegedly committed by you before these criminal charges were brought.

Finally, I have also filed motions on your behalf to Suppress the Evidence Obtained in Violation of the Defendant's 4th Amendment Rights (your confession); to Exclude Evidence as Cumulative (the photographs of the victim); and to Exclude Any Evidence of the Defendant's Prior Conviction. The Notice of Hearing for these motions have been set for December 13, 2010.

These dates are mandatory court appearances; it is imperative that you dress in the proper attire.

Please contact me or my paralegal if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Jill Young

Re: Missy Wong Pace

Dear Amtrak:

This firm has been retained by Ms. Missy Wong Pace (Pace) regarding her recent injuries. During the month of May 2010, our client suffered injuries sustained on your loading platform at a local train station. A penny placed on the tracks by a passenger, shot out from under a passing train shattering the lights above Ms. Pace causing shards of glass to fall into her eyes resulting in blindness for over the past 6 months.

Our client, being a very adept member of her profession, has been out of work since this incident due to negligence on Amtrak's behalf.

This letter is a formal demand that a sum $500,000.00 be paid to Ms. Pace by January 21, 2011. If payment is not received by the date provided, our client is prepared to pursue a litigious claim against Amtrak for the $500,000.00 plus any accrued medical bills and legal fees as allowed by law.

Please contact us promptly to confirm your compliance with the terms of this letter and to avoid litigation being filed against Amtrak.

Sincerely,

Jill Young
