What Do You Want to Know About Social Media? Ask the Experts

As a part of the ILN's Administrative team, I've been fortunate to have the experience of working with some incredible legal marketers at our member firms. They've supported me in my role in the Network and I've learned from them time and time again.

Periodically, we draw on them for assistance in answering member firms' marketing queries and they've even put together roundtables on various subjects.

The time has come to draw on them again as we develop our comments for a social media roundtable.

So here's your chance - what social media questions do you have for our marketing experts? Please add them in the comments and I'll include them in the questions to the group. We'll be answering the questions in virtual roundtable format, but I'll also share them with the blogosphere here.
