

2012 Maximum Compensation Rate is $803.00

The Florida Department of Financial Services provided an annual increase in the weekly compensation rate that injured employees are paid if placed on a no work status by an authorized workers' compensation doctor. If placed on a no-work status, injured workers are eligible to collect indemnity benefits (lost wage checks) which are calculated at 66 2/3% of an injured workers' average weekly wage. These benefits are called Temporary Total Disability benefits.

The maximum weekly amount that an injured worker can receive if placed on a no work status is $803.00, if the injury occurred in 2012. The maximum weekly compensation rate in 2011 was $782.00.

Read the memo here.

If you or a loved one has been hurt at work, one of the experienced workers' compensation attorneys at the Law Offices of Franks & Koenig is waiting to speak with you for a free and confidential consultation. Why wait? Call today.

Hurt at Work? We Can Help! 1 (877) WE-CAN-HELP (1-877-932-2643), contact us at anewelt@franksandkoenig.com or visit us on the web at <http://www.franksandkoenig.com>.