

Automatic Defibrillators Required for Certain Businesses

Lawyers for Employers[®]

Breaking Developments In Labor and Employment Law 12/28/09

Effective January 1, 2010, Oregon law requires that businesses with 50,000 square feet or more of floor space and that have at least 25 individuals who congregate at the facility on a normal business day, have at least one automated external defibrillator ("AED") on their premises. The law contains a Good Samaritan clause that bars lawsuits arising from the use of the AED.

For more information, please contact the Labor and Employment Law Practice Group at Lane Powell:

206.223.7000 Seattle
503.778.2100 Portland
907.277.9511 Anchorage
employlaw@lanepowell.com
www.lanepowell.com

We provide Employer Adviser as a service to our clients, colleagues and friends. It is intended to be a source of general information, not an opinion or legal advice on any specific situation, and does not create an attorney-client relationship with our readers. If you would like more information regarding whether we may assist you in any particular matter, please contact one of our lawyers, using care not to provide us any confidential information until we have notified you in writing that there are no conflicts of interest and that we have agreed to represent you on the specific matter that is the subject of your inquiry.

Copyright © 2009 Lane Powell PC
Seattle - Portland - Anchorage - Olympia - Tacoma - London