EXPUNGING CRIMINAL RECORDS

Clean Up Your Criminal Record

Disclaimer: This guide is intended as general information only. Your case may have factors requiring different procedures or forms. The information and instructions are provided for use in the Sacramento County Superior Court. Please keep in mind that each court may have different requirements. If you need further assistance, consult a lawyer.

FORMS

The Judicial Council forms commonly used in this procedure are:

- Petition for Dismissal (CR-180) www.courts.ca.gov/documents/cr180.pdf
- Order for Dismissal (CR-181) www.courts.ca.gov/documents/cr181.pdf
- Declaration (MC-030) www.courts.ca.gov/documents/mc030.pdf

BACKGROUND

“Expungement” is a term used when referring to a process of cleaning up your criminal record. In this process you request that the court reopen your criminal case, withdraw the plea or guilty verdict, dismiss the charges, and re-close the case without a conviction. In effect, you are no longer a convicted person. However, the case record itself will still exist, but the outcome of the case in will no longer be your plea or conviction, but instead dismissed in the “Interests of Justice,” or “IOJ”.

Not all convictions can be dismissed. Expungement is limited to cases in which the defendant convicted of a misdemeanor or a felony that could have been charged as a misdemeanor, and was sentenced to county jail time, probation, a fine, or a combination of those three. Additionally, the Penal Codes permitting expungement of criminal records expressly prohibit certain types of convictions from being dismissed. Most of these exceptions involve serious vehicle code violations (those that result in two or more points on your driving record) or sexual offenses against minors. For a detailed list of exceptions see Penal Code \(PC\) § 1203.4 and PC § 1203.4a.

There are three laws used in expungement:

1. The first, PC § 1203.4, is used to expunge cases in which probation was part of the sentence.
2. The second, PC § 1203.4a, is used expunge cases in which there was no probation.

3. The third, PC § 17, is used to reduce a felony conviction to a misdemeanor, which can then be dismissed. Felonies meeting the criteria under PC § 17 are often called “wobblers,” meaning they could be charged as either a felony or misdemeanor.

If you received a state prison term as your sentence, or were convicted of a felony that cannot be reduced to a misdemeanor, you will need to file paperwork for a Certificate of Rehabilitation, rather than a Petition and Order for Dismissal. More information is available from the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation at <http://www.cdcr.ca.gov/BOPH/pardons.html>.

Although your conviction may be dismissed, restrictions resulting from the conviction cannot. An expungement does not:

- Remove the conviction from your criminal history. California and FBI criminal history records will still show the conviction and the subsequent dismissal.
- Seal the court case file from public inspection. The court file remains public record.
- Reinstate your right to possess firearms. In some cases, reduction of a non-violent felony to a misdemeanor may accomplish this.
- Relieve you of your duty to register as a sex offender. In some cases, this may be accomplished by a different motion to the court.
- Allow you to omit the conviction from applications for government-issued licenses. You must disclose your conviction and expungement in your license application.
- Allow you to omit the conviction from application for government employment. If you are applying for a government job, a job that requires security clearance, or a job that requires a government-issued license, certificate, or permit, you must disclose the conviction and expungement.
- Allow you to hold public office, if the conviction prevented you from doing so.
- Prevent the conviction from being used to refuse or revoke a government license or permit, such as real estate license, teaching credential, security guard certificate, etc.
- Prevent the conviction from being used as a "prior." The dismissed conviction can be used for determining sentencing enhancements in subsequent convictions.
- Prevent the conviction from being used by the DMV. Expunged convictions may be used to suspend or revoke driving privileges.
- Prevent the conviction from being used by US Citizenship and Immigration Services. In many situations, an expunged conviction may be considered for removal or exclusion purposes.

For most people, the benefits of an expungement far outweigh these restrictions. Under California Labor Code \(Lab\) § 432.7, employers cannot ask about arrests that did not end in conviction, convictions that have been judicially dismissed, or about any diversion or similar programs. If the employer is aware of any such arrests or programs, they cannot use this information to make hiring, promotion, or firing decisions.

Once a conviction is expunged, it becomes an arrest that did not end in conviction. Legally, you may answer “No” to these types of questions when applying with a private employer. Keep in mind, though, that background checks typically go back 10 years, and employers can see that you had a conviction dismissed. Answering “No” may look dishonest. A better response may be “Yes, dismissed in the interests of justice.” When applying for government employment, you must disclose the conviction and expungement.

Step-by-Step Instructions

STEP 1: DETERMINE IF YOU ARE ELIGIBLE TO EXPUNGE YOUR CONVICTION

To be eligible to expunge your conviction, you must meet all the following conditions:

- Your conviction must meet the guidelines described in PC § 1203.4, PC § 1203.4a or PC § 17. These code sections provide very specific guidelines about qualifying charges and sentences. Be sure to read those code sections carefully, because there are many exceptions.
- At least one year must have passed since your conviction.
- You must have completed the terms of your sentence. In most situations, the court will not grant an expungement until your sentence is complete. This means you have completed your period of incarceration and/or probation, and paid all fines, fees, and restitution in full. You must also appear at all DMV hearings, and pay all DMV fines and fees. If you wish to make a payment, or set up a payment plan, contact the Department of Revenue and Recovery (DRR) at one of these locations:

700 H Street
Sacramento, CA 95814

4100 Branch Center Drive
Sacramento, CA 95827

DRR can also be reached at 916-875-7500 or DRRMail@saccounty.net. See www.drr.saccounty.net/Pages/default.aspx for more information.

If you are still on probation for this (or any other) conviction, you may ask the court to terminate your probation early. For more information, see the Step-by-Step guide on filing a Motion to Terminate Probation on our website at www.saclaw.org/pages/motion-terminate-probation.aspx.

- You cannot be serving a sentence for any offense, or be charged with the commission of any other offense. If you are still on probation for another offense, you will need to complete the terms of that sentence, or have that probation terminated prior to petitioning for an expungement. For more information, see the Step-by-Step guide on filing a Motion to Terminate Probation on our website at www.saclaw.org/pages/motion-terminate-probation.aspx.
- You must not have received another conviction within one year of the first.
- Your probation for the conviction you’re trying to expunge must not have been revoked, and not reinstated.

STEP 2: DETERMINE WHICH TYPE OF EXPUNGEMENT APPLIES TO YOUR SITUATION

As mentioned above, there are three types of expungement available. The type you use depends on the original conviction and sentence. The information below will help you determine which type of expungement is right for you.

Misdemeanor or Infraction Convictions

- Probation ordered and completed: File a Petition for Dismissal under PC § 1203.4.
- Probation ordered, but not yet completed: File a Motion to Terminate Probation (see the Step-by-Step guide on filing a Motion to Terminate Probation on our website at www.saclaw.org/pages/motion-terminate-probation.aspx). If that is granted, file a Petition for Dismissal under PC § 1203.4.
- Probation not ordered: File a Petition for Dismissal under PC § 1203.4a.

Felony Convictions

- County Jail and/or Probation ordered and completed: File a Petition under PC § 17\(b\)\(3\) to reduce the felony to a misdemeanor, and Petition for Dismissal under PC § 1203.4 to expunge the misdemeanor.
- Probation ordered, but not yet completed: File a Motion to Terminate Probation (see the Step-by-Step guide on filing a Motion to Terminate Probation on our website at www.saclaw.org/pages/motion-terminate-probation.aspx). If that is granted, file a Petition under PC § 17\(b\) to reduce the felony to a misdemeanor, and Petition for Dismissal under PC § 1203.4 to expunge the misdemeanor.
- State Prison ordered: If you were sentenced to State Prison, you are not eligible for the procedures described in this guide. Instead, you will need to apply for a Certificate of Rehabilitation and/or a Pardon. More information is available from the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation at www.cdcr.ca.gov/BOPH/pardons.html

STEP 3: OBTAIN A COPY OF YOUR CRIMINAL RECORD

You will need a copy of your criminal record or case information for each conviction you wish to expunge. Your criminal record or case history includes information essential to filling out the expungement papers.

To get case information for your post-1988 Sacramento convictions, visit www.saccourt.ca.gov. Click on “Search Our Case Index,” and use the search engine to find your case(s).

For a copy of your state-wide criminal record, visit a Live Scan fingerprinting site. After providing your fingerprints and paying the required fee, a copy of your criminal record will be mailed to you. To find a Live Scan site near you, see www.ag.ca.gov/fingerprints/publications/contact.php. More information about requesting your statewide criminal history is available at www.ag.ca.gov/fingerprints/security.php. The fee may be waived if you are low income. Call the Attorney General’s Records Review unit at (916) 227-3835 for more information.

STEP 4: COMPLETE THE REQUIRED FORMS

There are two forms you will need to expunge your conviction. The same forms are used for all three types of expungement.

- Petition for Dismissal (CR-180)
- Order for Dismissal (CR-181)

It is often a good idea to attach a declaration stating why you want the expungement and explaining your situation in life. In this declaration, you may want to discuss:

- Your plans for the future;
- The reasons you offended, and how your life is different today than it was when you offended;
- How the conviction has hurt your employment chances;
- If you have received any training or education since your conviction;
- Any occurrence in your life that changed how you interact with your community;
- Any 12-step or religious affiliations you have.

All declarations submitted to the court must contain the words “I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the state of California that the foregoing is true and correct.” Declarations should be no more than one page long, and may be typed or handwritten. You may use Declaration (MC-030) if you wish.

Letters from employers, clergy, or other community members can be convincing, but should not be attached to your petition. You may provide these to the judge at your hearing.

If you have changed your name since your conviction, fill out the forms with the name under which you were convicted. Sign the forms with your current name.

You will need to complete a separate Petition for Dismissal (CR-180) and Order for Dismissal (CR-181) for each conviction you wish to expunge.

STEP 5: COPY AND ASSEMBLE YOUR DOCUMENTS

Make five copies each of:

- Petition for Dismissal (CR-180)
- Order for Dismissal (CR-181)
- Declaration (MC-030), if included.

Two-hole punch the original and all copies of your documents. Staple each of the copies, but leave the original unstapled.

Assemble:

- Proof that all fines, fees and restitution are paid in full
- Processing fee or Fee Waiver forms (see Step 6)
- Self-addressed stamped envelope if you want a copy of the signed Order mailed to you.

STEP 6: FILE YOUR FORMS

Expungement forms are filed in the county where you were convicted. For courthouse locations, see www.courts.ca.gov/superiorcourts.htm. In Sacramento, these are filed at the Gordon D. Schaber Sacramento County Courthouse, located at 720 Ninth Street in downtown Sacramento. If you are filing in another county, please be sure to check with that court to determine the correct location to file.

There is a fee for processing your Petition. PC § 1203.4 sets the maximum fee for probation cases where probation was ordered at $150 (Sacramento currently charges $120). PC § 1203.4a sets the maximum fee for convictions without probation at $60 (Sacramento currently charges $60). Fee waivers are available for low-income petitioners. For more information, see the Step-by-Step guide on Fee Waivers on our website at www.saclaw.org/pages/fee-waiver.aspx.

STEP 7: SERVE YOUR FORMS

Service is a formal way of giving copies of court documents to all parties in a case. In an expungement proceeding, the District Attorney and Probation Department must be served.

In Sacramento County, the court will serve your papers for you. If you are filing in a different county, contact the criminal court clerk to determine the service requirements and procedures in that county. Many will serve the documents for you. If not, when you file your documents with the court, the clerk will give you stamped copies of your papers. These must be served on the District Attorney and the Probation Department in that county. The person performing service will then complete a Proof of Service form, and turn it in to the court.

STEP 8: ATTEND YOUR COURT HEARING, IF REQUIRED

For many people, no court hearing will be scheduled. Instead, the petition is automatically granted as long as you have met all the requirements. On your petition, the clerk will indicate the date by which the court will make a ruling. On or after that date, you can check the court's website to see if your Petition was granted. Go to www.saccourt.ca.gov. Click on "Search Our Case Index," and use the search engine to find your case(s).

If a hearing is required for your case, the court will notify you of the hearing date.

STEP 9: IF YOUR PETITION IS DENIED

If you attend the hearing, you may ask the judge what you can do to get your conviction expunged. You may re-file your petition for expungement in 3-6 months, after you've made the changes recommended by the judge.

Parties in the original case

At the time of my conviction in 2005, I was only 19 years old. I had dropped out of high school, and was not working. I had too much time on my hands, and was hanging out with people who were a bad influence. This led to me getting into trouble.

After the birth of my daughter in 2007, I realized that I needed to get my life on track, so that I could support her. With the help of my parents, I got my GED, and enrolled at UniTech to study Automotive Technology. I worked part time at an auto parts store while going to school part time, so I could support my daughter and help my parents with bills, since they were letting me stay with them. I finished my schooling in January 2011. Since then, I've been trying to find full time work as an Automotive Technician or Smog Check Technician, but am having a hard time. There are not a lot of jobs available right now, and having a conviction on my record puts me at a disadvantage against other applicants.

In your own words, tell the court why you want to expunge your conviction. Consider including information like:

- Your plans for the future;
- The reasons you offended, and how your life is different today than it was when you offended;
- How the conviction has hurt your employment chances;
- If you have received any training or education since your conviction;
- Any occurrence in your life that changed how you interact with your community; and
- Any 12-step or religious affiliations you have.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California that the foregoing is true and correct.
